Oil Worker Fatally Hurt

Carmi Man Falls From Derrick at Gann No. 2 Well

A Carmi oil field worker employed on a Raleigh township operation was fatally injured in a fall from the derrick Thursday night.

Dead is Clint Edward "Jack" Duvall, 36, who died at 10:03 p. m. in Harrisburg hospital, about an hour after the accident. He arrived at the hospital about 9:20 p. m.

Duvall, conscious when taken to the hospital, said he fell about fifty feet when riding an elevator up the derrick. Coroner James Thornton was told.

He was a derrick hand employed by the Atlas Drilling Co. of Carmi, which is drilling the Dick Gann No. 2 in Section 20 of Raleigh township, where the fall occurred. Atlas is drilling the test for the Carter Oil Co.

Coroner Thornton, who conducted his investigation last night, said after examination of the body at the hospital that Duvall apparently died of a fractured skull. He said there was a fracture around the right temple and an injury to the back of the head. An inquest will be held tonight at 7:30 at the court house.

Employees told Coroner Thornton that they did not know what caused Duvall to fall, that apparently none of the equipment broke. Duvall is survived by his wife and several children, other employees stated.

The body was returned to Carmi by the Kittenger funeral home of Carmi.

Report by Gromyko

Supreme Soviet to Ask Congress and British Parliament To End A-Tests

MOSCOW (U.P.)—The Supreme Soviet resolved today to appeal directly to the American Congress and British Parliament for an immediate end to nuclear test explosions.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged before Russia's parliament that the Western powers "consistently oppose and undermine efforts to reach agreement on disarmament."

In a report on atomic tests, he reiterated that Russia will continue to produce nuclear weapons and guided missiles as long as there is no agreement banning them.

After Gromyko's report — his first to parliament since succeeding Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister — the Supreme Soviet voted its direct approach to American and British lawmakers.

The resolution called for all three parliaments to organize a joint committee which would exchange opinions on the methods of outlawing tests and eventually banning use of nuclear weapons. The Supreme Soviet earlier unanimously approved Communist Party chief Nikita Khrushchev's sweeping shakeup of the nation's industry — after adding a number of amendments.

Gromyko offered the first official Soviet answer to recent Western statements that nuclear tests should be registered because not all can be detected by outside nations.

"This contradicts the facts," Gromyko said. "The explosion has not yet occurred which remained undetected."

Western statesmen, including President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, declared this spring that Russia probably can carry out undetected tests in its vast land mass.

Advance registration of tests as proposed by the West is insufficient and fails to solve the basic problem.

The Soviet Union is compelled to continue testing and manufacturing A-bombs due to the dangerous international situation and especially due to the "American brink of war policy" and unchecked competition between the great powers for "stronger, deadlier weapons of mass destruction."

"The Soviet Union insists on immediate cessation of all tests and a ban on nuclear weapons."

Britain and the United States would like to see the Soviet Union discontinue tests unilaterally, but "they want too much. This is impossible because it would threaten Soviet security and increase the dangers of nuclear war."

Western statesmen, including President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, declared this spring that Russia

Pinilla Gov't in Colombia Falls to Military Junta

Violent Opposition To Dictator Evident
Throughout Week

BOGOTA, Colombia (U.P.)—The government of President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla fell to a military junta today.

A broadcast over the official radio said the junta is composed of Maj. Gen. Alfredo Duarte Blum, commander of the army; Brig. Gen. Deogracias Fonseca, director of the national police; and Maj. Gen. Gabriel Paris, minister of war.

Authoritative Colombian circles in New York said Rojas Pinilla and his family fled to Montego Bay, Jamaica, British West Indies. They said the deposed president and his party arrived there this morning aboard a Colombian air force plane.

Rojas Pinilla was elected in 1954 to a term scheduled to end Aug. 7, 1958. But his hand-picked puppet assembly elected him to a second term which would have ended in 1962 only this past Wednesday night.

There had been violent opposition to his dictatorial moves throughout the country for more than a week, with many persons reported killed by government forces.

Thursday, high prelates of the influential Roman Catholic Church condemned the government of Rojas Pinilla for "murder" in putting down the opposition. The government had blamed the violence on Communists.

The immediate future of the country was not clear, but a joint civilian-military government was considered a possibility.

As soon as formation of the junta was announced, throngs concentrated in the center of Bogota shouting, "Viva free Colombia" and "Down with the Dictator." They also shouted against military rule and called for civilian control.

Bullets Fired at Launch Carrying Cowles Group

BANGKOK, Thailand (U.P.)—Publisher Gardner Cowles and his party narrowly escaped death or injury today when six bullets were fired at a U. S. embassy speedboat carrying the party on a sight-seeing excursion.

One bullet passed directly beneath a camp chair on which Cowles was seated, passing between his legs and smashing into the bulkhead within inches of news correspondent Edward R. Kennedy.

The bullets were fired by unidentified assailants using a .38 caliber submachine gun from the shore about 200 yards away.

The launch on which the party was riding is a former U. S. Navy picket patrol boat being used by a U. S. Navy attaché and was flying the American flag which was displayed prominently.

The shooting occurred five miles north of Bangkok on the Chao Phya River which is the main waterway of Bangkok. Cowles and nine other Americans were returning from a visit to ancient Thai capital grounds near Bangkok.

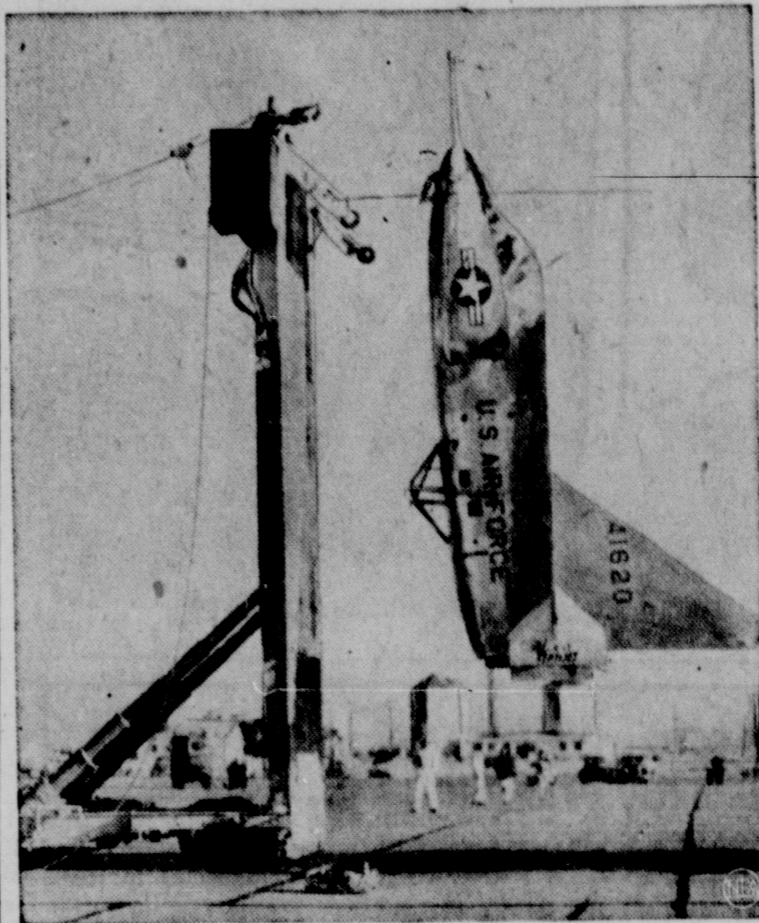

A police shore installation was contacted half a mile from the scene and armed Thai police boarded the American launch to convey the vessel back to Bangkok.

No immediate explanation was available for the shooting. One unofficial source said he believed "someone was shooting at the American flag, trying to create an incident."

Cowles is president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and publisher of Look magazine.

Rising and descending on a column of exhaust gases, the X-13 depends solely on thrust from its jet engine for both direct lift and level flight.

CIPS President Defends Rates, Pledges Support for Area's Future

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — The hope was expressed today by an electric utility executive that the current legislative investigation of the cost of electricity in southern Illinois will correct misunderstandings which he said have caused internal strife that has brought adverse publicity to that area and hampered its chances for more rapid industrial development.

M. S. Luthringer, president of Central Illinois Public Service Co., pledged the support of his company in any constructive effort toward "realizing the kind of future which can be enjoyed by southern Illinois if all of us work together as a team."

Luthringer testified at a hearing held by a legislative commission investigating southern Illinois electric rates. The special commission was created at the request of Rep. Bert Baker (D-Benton).

A resolution passed March 5 by the Illinois House of Representatives created a five-man legislative committee to investigate the cost of electric power in the southern one-third of the state. Rep. Joseph Siemer of Teutopolis is chairman of the committee.

The hearing was the second held by the committee and gave the company an opportunity to answer criticism that has been leveled against it. An earlier public hearing was held April 26 at Herrin.

Rep. Joseph B. Siemer (R-Teutopolis), chairman of the commission, said further studies would be made through the records of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The study group is due to report to the Legislature by May 15, but Baker said its report may be delayed. Some commission members said the commission should continue its study until the 1959 General Assembly in order to more adequately look into the subject.

Big Stake in Area

Replying to critics' charges that CIPS electric rates are keeping industry from locating in southern Illinois, Luthringer pointed out: "We have millions of dollars invested in electric equipment and facilities in southern Illinois. No one has a bigger stake in its future. Our own self-interest requires us to do everything within our power to promote the expansion of existing industries and to encourage the location of new industries in the area."

As a measure of economic growth in the company's service area, the CIPS president earlier had presented statistics on kilowatt hour sales of electricity to small and large-light and power customers. They showed that the increase in such sales in the entire CIPS area in the past 10 years

Lost Combination Halts Hardin County Business

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (U.P.) — A missing combination is dimming the prospects of any immediate weddings in Hardin County.

County Clerk Luter Sheridan here had been using a short combination to open the office vault. But he turned the combination too far Tuesday, throwing it into the long combination.

The paper with the long combination numbers has been lost. And the company which made the vault in 1926 has gone out of business. Another company which took over its assets is frantically searching for the paper with the long combination numbers.

Meanwhile, county business, including issuance of marriage licenses, is at a virtual standstill. All the official papers are in the vault.

Death Takes John Chury, 87, Retired Miner

John Chury, 87, died at his home, 101 Shaw street, Harrisburg, at 8:30 p. m. Thursday. Born in Hungary, Sept. 29, 1869, Mr. Chury came to the United States in 1909 and was a naturalized citizen. He was a retired coal miner having last worked at Peabody 43.

Mr. Chury had been in ill health for several years, had been blind for eight years and bedfast for the last three years. He lived with his grandson, Robert Z. Barber, and his son-in-law, Zeke Barber, at the Shaw street address.

Other survivors are his brother, Andy Chury of Wason; his sister, Mrs. Julia Nagy of Duquesne, Pa., and a sister still living in Hungary. He was preceded in death by his wife, Bertha, in 1948, his son, John Chury Jr., his daughter, Mrs. Irene Barber, and his brother, Mike Chury.

He was a Presbyterian by faith and the body will lie in state at the Harrisburg funeral chapel until the funeral which will be held there at a time to be determined.

Most of Saving Results from Soil Bank Cuts

Group Recommends
$3.6 Billion to Operate Ag Dep't

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House Appropriations Committee sank its economy ax into the usually immune farm program today, chopping $272,556,860 from President Eisenhower's money requests.

Most of the saving was achieved by reducing soil bank funds which farmers receive for cutting back plantings.

The committee said city folks consider the program to be a scheme for "giving farmers something for nothing" and recommended that the soil bank fund be cut back further next year.

The action came as the economy drive already was rolling along so furiously as to raise considerable doubt whether President Eisenhower's personal intervention would be enough to stop it.

But Eisenhower was set to try. The White House was busy arranging for two nationwide TV-radio speeches within the next two weeks for the President to defend his record peacetime spending budget in general and his foreign aid program in particular.

First Farm Cut

The House committee voted to send to the floor for debate next week a $3,692,889,757 money bill to operate the Agriculture Department and some of its programs in the 12 months starting July 1.

Included was $2,083,000,000 to pick up the tab for price support and other losses during the past year.

The cut of more than 272 million dollars in administration requests was in addition to a 254 million dollar soil bank reduction the administration already had made in revising its original farm budget estimates.

If the reductions win House and Senate approval, it would be the first time since Eisenhower took office that his farm budget was cut. In the past four years, Congress has wound up voting more farm funds than the administration requested.

The committee action raised the possibility that total farm program spending in the next fiscal year—including separately financed price support funds — may be reduced about 500 million dollars below the administration's original $5,300,000,000 estimate.

The formal committee report, drafted by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), complained that department policymakers "have mounted a horse and are attempting to ride out in all directions at once."

Assail "Acreage Reserve"

In its major economy cuts, the committee recommended: —600 million dollars for the soil bank's "acreage reserve" under which farmers are paid to cutback plantings of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice. This was $101,173,340 less than the administration's revised request and probably would require a cutback in plans to offer payments to farmers for curtailing plantings of the 1958 winter wheat crop this fall.

—$668,441,660 for all of the department's soil and water conservation reserve portion of the soil bank. This was $133,441,660 less than the administration requested. The committee left it up to the department to decide where to impose the cuts, but indicated it

But He Kept on Trying

Not long ago a milestone was passed—the 100th anniversary of the birth of the famed Chicago defense lawyer, Clarence Darrow. No one who treasures human justice will let the event go unobserved.

A rough and ready advocate brimming with independent spirit, Darrow braved hostile opinion to defend murderers and other unpopular individuals.

He pioneered in theories of criminality which helped to lead the nation away from vindictiveness toward a more balanced, less emotional approach. In the celebrated Loeb-Leopold murder case in Chicago, as defender he succeeded in winning the court's acceptance of psychiatric data—now a commonplace in trials.

Darrow once said: "When you're a young man you want to reform the world, and you think you can. When you grow old, you still want to, but you know you can't."

Yet there was no evidence down to the last day of his memorable life that Clarence Darrow ever really believed there was no further use in trying.

"Stick 'Em Up!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Furcolo Warns Ike Of Need For Federal Funds To Aid The States On Public-Works Projects; Lyndon Johnson Rubs Democratic Leaders Wrong Way; Texan Grooming Smathers To Replace Butler.

WASHINGTON. — Foster Furcolo, dynamic young governor of Massachusetts, paid a call on President Eisenhower last week.

He laid before Ike a plan for the federal government to set $3,000,000,000 aside from which the states could borrow at 2 per cent interest to build school buildings and various public works.

"What the 48 states are up against, Mr. President," explained Democratic Governor Furcolo, "is the highest interest rate in years. We have to pay 4 or 4 1/2 per cent on bonds to build schools, hospitals and highways."

"It's prohibitive. The result is that a lot of states just aren't going to build."

"However," continued the governor of Massachusetts, "if the federal government set aside $3,000,000,000 from which the states could borrow at 2 per cent, the banks would probably lower their interest rates."

Furcolo told Ike that he had queried the other state governors on the idea and about half seemed to favor the plan.

President Eisenhower, however, was noncommittal. He listened attentively, but made no comment.

Later the Massachusetts governor tried the idea out on Speaker Sam Rayburn and Congressman John McCormack of Boston, the Democratic House leader. He got much more favorable reaction.

LYNDON CHAFES DEMS

Democratic leaders made no effort to hide their irritation with Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the so-called Democratic leader of the Senate, for leaving Washington when the former President of the United States, the Democratic candidate for President and other top leaders of the party came to attend a money-raising dinner and confer on Democratic strategy.

In addition to being irked at Lyndon's boycott they learned that he is secretly grooming Sen. George Smathers of Florida to replace Paul Butler as Democratic chairman when Butler retires to run for the Senate from Indiana.

Smathers, one of the handsomest senators, sometimes referred to as a member of the "Lyndon Johnson charm school," is well remembered by Adlai Stevenson for the way he sat on his hands in Florida in 1952.

Smathers made not one speech for Stevenson, did not lift a finger in that election. Finally toward the end of the campaign he was asked to introduce Stevenson at a Democratic rally in Tampa, but refused—unless he were permitted to make a speech during his introductory explaining why he differed with Stevenson. In brief, he wanted to make a speech against Stevenson before Stevenson spoke.

This was rejected. Smathers did come to Tampa and sat on the platform. When asked to take a bow he was greeted with long, loud and continuous boos.

This is the man Lyndon Johnson wants to push as chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Note — To atone for his past, Lyndon pushed Smathers into the post of money-raiser for Democratic senators last year. But Democratic leaders point out that Smathers' activities helped Lyndon's Senate friends, not the national ticket.

FROM THE SMOKE-FILLED ROOMS

When California Democratic committeeman Paul Zifron introduced the resolution banning a right-to-work bill he told fellow Democrats: "A right-to-work bill has no more place in a civil rights bill than a right-to-live amendment has in the national defense appropriation." . . . Alabama's committeewoman Thomas urged that the segregationist questions be reconsidered at Washington because the press had been present at the San Francisco Democratic meetings, so delegates could not express themselves freely. Col. Jack Arvey, kingpin of Chicago Democrats, voiced Lyndon Johnson's earlier squawk that "Drew Pearson published the record of our closed-door sessions. How do you suppose Drew gets it?" Arvey asked.

It was no accident that the southerners stayed home, almost en masse, from last week's $100-a-plate Democratic dinner. Senate leader Lyndon Johnson organized a "passive boycott" as a deliberate snub to the Democratic National committee . . . He believes the committee is dominated by northern liberals, but should be run by southern congressional leaders—meaning himself primer ly . . . Johnson personally led the boycott by going to Texas instead of the dinner. He passed the word to southern leaders to follow his example . . . Result: only one southern governor, North Carolina's Luther Hodges, showed up for what was also supposed to be a Democratic governors' conference . . . Even Tennessee's fireball Gov. Frank Clement, who had agreed to sit on the stand, sent his regrets the last minute.

Ex-President Truman's private reaction to Senator McCarthy's death was slightly different than his public statement. Upon learning the news, Truman told fellow Democrats: "I am sorry to hear of McCarthy's death, but I am always sorry when a critic of the Eisenhower administration dies."

. . . Both Truman and Adlai Stevenson swiped a gag from Minnesota's Governor Freeman, who wisecracked at a private breakfast: "When President Eisenhower goes on the air to defend his budget, the Republicans will probably ask for equal time." . . . Truman liked the crack so well that he planned to use it in his public speech. But Stevenson was called on first and beat Truman to the punchline.

Michigan's Gov. Mennen "Soapy" Williams was the final featured speaker. The other speeches dragged out so long that only a tenth of the audience stayed to hear him. While Williams was still talking, the waiters began folding up the tables. Then a moving van drove into the huge armory to haul away the tables and chairs. This was the last straw. The exasperated Williams snorted: "I can understand the waiters clearing the tables and even folding them. But when they bring in stretchers to take out the audience, that's too much."

dential speech given by Colonel Nasser to Egyptian army officers saying that the Arab world would be better off if all three Arab kings were dethroned.

When the speech was read to King Saud of Saudi Arabia an old friendship went up in smoke. Saud had advanced many million dollars to Nasser in the past. But immediately he started spurning Nasser, building an alliance with the other two kings—Hussein of Jordan and Feisal of Iraq.

He sent a million dollars to Hussein to pay the Jordan Legion and to bribe Bedouin chiefs to remain loyal to the king.

Prediction 1—Young King Hussein will be invited to visit the U. S. A.

Prediction 2—Colonel Nasser will soon call a meeting of Arab leaders to try to mend his political fences. It's doubtful if the three Arab kings will attend.

Social and Personal Items

St. Ann's Altar Society Holds Regular Meeting

St. Ann's Altar society held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening, in the church hall. One guest, Mrs. Greiner, mother of Mrs. Joe Matthews, was introduced.

For the devotion Mrs. Joe Matthews led the group in the recitation of the five glorious mysteries of the Rosary which was very appropriate since the month of May is dedicated to the Virgin Mary.

Mrs. Wm. Zimmer resigned from the Altar committee owing to ill health and Mrs. Louis Bobka was appointed to take her place.

Mrs. Ted Brannock announced that a rummage sale would be held in the church basement June 10 and she asks all those contributing to this sale to please bring the articles before that date so they can be sorted and tagged in advance.

Mrs. J. J. Klein gave an interesting report on the Deanery meeting at Flora.

The report of Mrs. W. I. Reynolds for the Sick and Condolement committee showed that two birth congratulation cards, one cheer card, four condolence cards and two convert congratulation cards were sent during the month of April.

Mrs. Robert Patrick, president, announced that the program in June would be in charge of Mrs. W. I. Reynolds and urged all the members to attend as a great amount of time and effort has been put into the preparation.

Mrs. Marie McCormick said that the usual dinner for the HTHS graduates would be held and the meal would be prepared by the mothers.

The collection for St. John's Orphanage was taken up and the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Marie McCormick.

The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Mary Humm.

Dessert and coffee were served by the committee of the month: Mrs. Michael Reshete, Mrs. Louis Aaron, Mrs. Wm. Rodgers, Mrs. Robt. Bryant, Mrs. Chas. Gustin, Mrs. Fred Warmelink, Mrs. Carl Hauptmann and Mrs. John Wagner.

Nursing Students Meet at Rosiclare

A class meeting of practical nurse students of the Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing, was held May 3 at the home of Mrs. Susie Riggs at Rosiclare. Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were to the following students:

Mrs. Maude Johnson, Mrs. Ruby Carnahan, Mrs. Lorene Reeves, Mrs. Dorothy Krikie, Mrs. Sybil Hipps, all of Harrisburg; Mrs. Lorene Bakrich, Eldorado; Mrs. Connie Bennett, Raleigh; Mrs. Essie Adams and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Galatia; Mrs. Francis Walters, Mrs. Dorothy Ross, Goldconda; Mrs. Opal Clore and the hostess of Rosiclare.

The June meeting will be a picnic supper on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hart.

"ALL THINGS ARE CHANGED, AND WE CHANGE WITH THEM"

In recent years there has been a great change in the practice of medicine and pharmacy.

To keep pace with this change we pharmacists are continuously studying the drug and medical journals. As soon as a new drug is released we not only stock it, but learn all about its dosage, action, proper compounding, and preservation.

That is why we are prepared to compound any prescription, prescribed by any physician, no matter how distant, exactly as he specifies.

ENGAGED. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Richmond of 510 South Granger street, Harrisburg, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Carol Richmond, to William Dale Drone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Drone of Ridgeway. A December wedding is planned.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held at Dorrisville Church

His Disciples class of the Dorrisville Social Brethren church held its annual mother-daughter banquet at the Gibson cafe in Carrier Mills Tuesday evening. The tables were decorated with spring flowers and tapers. Handmade flowerpots marked the dinner places.

Mrs. Mabel Stricklin, president, welcomed the guests and members. A gift was presented to the "oldest" guest mother, Mrs. Viola Rose, and the "youngest" mother who was a guest, Mrs. Jane Crank. As each guest was introduced a corsage was pinned on her.

The program consisted of short skits presented by the members, and the blessing for the meal was asked by Mrs. Edith Gulley.

Attending were the following: Mrs. Mabel Stricklin and mother, Mrs. Pearl Aldridge; Mrs. Pauline Durfee and mother, Mrs. Addie Howard; Mrs. Audrey Reed and mother, Mrs. Laura Tucker; Mrs. Orval VanBibber and mother, Mrs. Helen Goodwin; Mrs. Helen Gulley and mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Gulley; Mrs. Lucille Pankey and mother, Mrs. Nina Vaughn; Mrs. Lu-dean Gidcumb and mother, Mrs. Viola Rose; Mrs. Thelma Killman and daughter, Mrs. Jane Crank; Mrs. Wilma Gulley and guest, Mrs. Zola Harris, and Mrs. Cordelia York and guest, Mrs. Clara Wilson.

Homemaker's Class Meets With Mrs. W. C. Dallas

The Homemaker's Sunday school class of the North America Baptist church held its April meeting and social hour in the home of Mrs. W. C. Dallas recently. Mrs. Charles Hankins, guest of the class, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. W. C. Dallas, president, presided and read the 23rd Psalm for a devotion.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Cecil Boatright, Mrs. Robbie Hankins, Mrs. Wayne Hankins and the door prize went to Miss LaVada Lindie. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dallas, assisted by Mrs. Albert Malone, Mrs. Robbie Hankins and Mrs. Dewey Dallas.

Those present were Mrs. Sam Molsinger, Mrs. Thomas Orr, Miss Imogene Futch, Mrs. Cecil Boatright, Miss Virginia Pryor, Mrs. Wayne Hankins, Mrs. Clyde Ragsdale, Mrs. Harold Dallas and daughter, Doris, Mrs. Charles Hankins and children, Miss Mary Owen, Miss LaVada Lindie, Mrs. Gordon Futch and son, Jimmy, Mrs. Bernard Healy and daughter, Linda, Pamela Dallas and her mother, the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Robbie Hankins on Thursday. Mystery pals will be revealed at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crabb of 24 South Vine street, Harrisburg, returned from their wedding trip Saturday. They were married Saturday, April 27, and left for Florida immediately following their wedding. Tampa, St. Petersburg and Daytona Beach were places of outstanding interest to them during their Florida tour.

Honor Grace Kelly

NEW YORK, May 10 (E.N.)—According to a report heard over WQXR, the radio station of the New York Times, the Consul General of Monaco reports "the Grace Kelly wedding stamps are completely sold out."—However, these stamps may be obtained from the Elmont Stamp Co.

Because the Wedding set has evoked a lively interest in stamps of Monaco, Elmont's Paris Office has prepared a collection containing the complete GRACE KELLY postage set of five stamps, the large-sized diamond Olympic set of six . . . and the recent Monaco set of four honoring Presidents Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt, and Eisenhower; a total of 15 mint stamps for just $1.00 to introduce Elmont's approval service.

Annual May Party Held at First Christian Church

The annual May party of the First Christian church Women's Missionary Society was held Monday evening at the church. The members invited their mothers and other special guests and decorations and refreshments carried out the theme for the year, "The Old West."

There was a western drama "skit" presented and refreshments of gaily decorated cookies were served with punch.

The special guests were Mrs. Jeanette Gray, Mrs. Velva Yates, Mrs. Katie Farmer, Mrs. Gladys Parker, Mrs. Fern Johnson, Mrs. Mary Churchwell, Mrs. Nellie Brackney, Mrs. Leta Hamby, Mrs. Emma Street, Mrs. Bernice Wise, Mrs. Lucille McCormick, Mrs. Carrie Young, Mrs. Lulu Williams, Mrs. Lorraine Balabas, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, Mrs. Margaret Rice, Mrs. Ola Boatright, Mrs. Bessie Hagler, Mrs. Myrtle Adams, Miss Bess Pemberton, Mrs. J. M. Burley, Mrs. Bill Balabas, Jimmy Stunson and Jeffrey Stunson.

Guild members who took part in the program were Connie Uzzle, Annary Empson, Ruth Stunson, Louise McNab, Pauline Fullen, Zola Sloan, Frances Brackney, Lou Ann Yates, Mary Daugherty, Gladys Gibbons, Nancy Harris, Vivian Harris and Janet Stunson.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Served By Deacons Of Presbyterian Church

The board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian church, sponsored and served a mother-daughter banquet at the church on Wednesday evening. There were 128 mothers and daughters present.

The deacons served the tables, dressed in "uniforms" of white shirts and bow ties. The tables were decorated with carnations in vases. The mother of the young child was honored at each table and presented with the vase and carnation from her table.

The invocation was said by Mrs. G. C. Benson to open the program and a choral group, under the direction of Mrs. Elvie Gidcumb Jr., sang.

Mrs. Roscoe Pulliam, director of the off-campus housing at SIU, was the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Pulliam was introduced by Mrs. Paul Halbersleben.

Mrs. J. M. Burley closed the meeting with a benediction.

Mt. Vernon Garden Clubs To Hold Flower Show

A flower show will be held Friday, May 17, from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m. at the Moose hall in Mt. Vernon, Ill. It is being presented by the Mt. Vernon Garden club and the Mt. Vernon Garden Glories Garden club. Both clubs are affiliated with the 22 Garden clubs in Region 7, which covers all of southern Illinois, and are federated with the Garden Club of Illinois, Incorporated.

Flower shows are community affairs and out of town participation is encouraged. Admission is free. Advance entry blanks or schedules may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Ray Schweinfurth, 1817 Richview Road, Mt. Vernon, Illinois. There will be the award of a prize every hour on the hour to someone attending.

Miss Beatrice E. Dean Harrisburg Visitor

Miss Beatrice E. Dean has returned to her home in Guanajuato, Mexico, after a several weeks' visit with relatives and friends of Harrisburg and the nearby community. She was a guest of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Dixon, 125 West Park street, and of her brother, Orval J. Dean, 713 North Main.

There was a family reunion on Easter Sunday held in the Fern Hill home of the Orval Deans. Among the many friends and relatives who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. David Jones and daughter, Jennifer, of Dayton, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dean, Karen Sue and Debby Lynn and John Val of Carmi.

These are the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Dean.

Miss Dean also visited with the James Deans' of Carmi. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon accompanied Miss Dean on her return trip as far as Memphis, Tenn., where they were all guests of a nephew, William Clifford Dean, who has recently moved there with his family.

Presbyterian Women's Guild Meets In Church Chapel

The Women's guild of the First Presbyterian church met in the chapel of the church, Wednesday, Mrs. Kenneth Wiley presented the devotion, stressing the responsibility of the Christian in maintaining spiritual and moral principals which have made the church strong.

Mrs. Paul Halbersleben, chairman, introduced Mrs. Joseph Hart who read Psalm 91 and presented the subject, "Through All Our Days". The group joined in the singing of a hymn. The program continued with a tribute to all of the women of the past who have been active in the life of the church and played an inspiring role in the religious life of their communities. Mrs. Sam Cape, Mrs. Steve Farrar, Mrs. Clarence Bosket, and Mrs. Leroy Reese presented this part of the program and many interesting talents and traits were reviewed as each woman's history was retold.

Mrs. Jesse Burley presented the Year Book of Prayer.

The Rev. William Burroughs introduced a new idea to the group. The choosing of intercessors to give special thought to the shut-ins of the church, making them feel more a part of the life of the church.

Mrs. Hudson Mugge read the minutes of the previous meeting and the Rev. Burroughs closed the meeting with prayer.

Pankeyville W.M.U. Holds Royal Service Meeting

The W.M.U. of the Pankeyville Baptist church met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Nancy Sadler for the May Royal Service meeting.

Mrs. Blanch Lauderdale opened the meeting with prayer, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and roll call was answered with a scripture verse by each member present. Meeting time was changed to the first Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Alta Norman gave the devotion from scripture readings taken from the books of John and Jeremiah.

The lesson, "Broken Cisterns," was presented by Nancy Sadler, Mrs. Lauderdale and Mrs. Gates. The June meeting will be held in the church.

Wayne County, one of America's industrial giants, is also a first in Michigan agriculture. It leads all others in sweet corn production.

Girl Scouting

Brownie Troop 13 went on an all day April 26 to Bell Smith Springs and Burden Falls. They enjoyed climbing to the bottom of the falls and hiking from Devil's Backbone to the Natural Bridge. A nosebag lunch was enjoyed by the following Brownies: Marsch Boyd, Terry Davis, Candy Duncan, Katie Gaskins, Betty Ann Goben, Martha Jays, Helena Humphrey, Sue Melton, Marsha Moore, Katie Stallings, Brenda Williams, and Barbara Miley.

Books were studied that identified the forest trees and snakes of Illinois. These were obtained from the Forest Service. This group was accompanied by Miss Jane Rice and Mrs. James F. Moore, leaders, Mrs. William Goben, Mrs. O. D. Rice, Mrs. Ernest day outing April 26 to Bell Smith Boyd, Mrs. James Stallings, Becky Stallings and Forrest Moore.

New Girl Scout Troops Organized; Leaders Needed

The Girl Scout Organization committee met with the mothers of girls who are interested in becoming Girl Scouts Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church and about 40 mothers and potential leaders were present.

Miss Mabel Webb, King Coal executive director, was present to give her assistance to the new troop organizers. Mrs. K. C. Capel, troop consultant, was present to help the new leaders with their program planning.

Mrs. Gene Morris, organizer for Horace Mann school, reports that leaders have been found for new troops from Horace Mann; Mrs. James Moore, organizer for McKinley school, reports that leaders have been found for the new troops at McKinley, and Mrs. Raymond Debes reports that no leaders have been found for new troops in the Logan school district.

Mrs. Leland Cutting, chairman for the Girl Scouts organization in Saline county, says leaders are needed for two more Brownie Scout troops and one Intermediate Scout troop.

Six Area Towns, Two Counties to Bid For Industry at National Exposition

NEW YORK — Six small towns of southern Illinois and two of Illinois' smallest counties will make a concerted bid for new industry at the National Industrial Development Exposition at the Coliseum here May 20-24.

They have teamed up to match their resources against some of the nation's largest industrial centers in a 40-foot display space flanked by exhibits from Hawaii and the state of Michigan.

Southern Illinois entries are Cairo, Carlyle, Cobden, Eldorado, Flora, Mounds, Hardin county and Pope county. Populations of the towns range from 1,000 to 13,000. Their common bond is an intensive program of community development which local residents have been carrying out with the help of Southern Illinois University.

Representatives of SIU's department of community development will be on hand to explain how the partnership between the University and these community areas have made them more attractive as industrial sites.

Each of the Southern Illinois areas has undertaken a campaign to root out community ills whatever their nature. They have also taken on beautification projects, voted new schools and hospitals, improved recreation facilities, established industrial foundations, and otherwise contributed to community progress by united citizen action.

Their blueprint for improvement was set down by Richard V. Poston, director of the University's department of community development, in his book, "Democracy is You". Poston, formerly head of the Bureau of Community Development at the University of Washington, is recognized as one of the top leaders in his field.

Poston and George W. Griffin, Jr., of Sylvania Electric Products Co., will lead a panel discussion on "Living With Your Adopted Community" at an Exposition seminar May 21.

The southern Illinois display will feature a large map on the center panel with Community development areas pinpointed by colored lights. On one side will be a flicker panel illustrating how community teamwork pays off for industry. On the other end of the display will

C&EI Awarded Mail Contract

Harrisburg area residents can expect more rapid mail service following the award of a government mail contract to the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad, it was announced today by R. B. Lewis, traffic manager.

Three daily trains originating in Chicago and connecting with truck routes at Vincennes, Evansville and Terre Haute, Ind., and Paris and Chrisman, Ill., began carrying mail on May 4. Star Route is the government-controlled trucking route operating in connection with the railroad.

Mail was formerly carried by the New York Central System which ceased operations to the southeast portion of the state at midnight, May 3.

The Sikhs comprise a religious sect founded during the 15th century in the Punjab region of India.

reports will also be displayed.

Heading the SIU team at the Exposition will be Robert S. Henderson, industrial consultant to the department of community development. Accompanying him will be Mason Parker, industrial engineer for Central Illinois Public Service Co., and Ila Vessell of the Illinois Power Co.

MAN OF THE WEEK In Carrier Mills

By BILL MELTON

John E. Austin, principal of the Carrier Mills elementary school, is probably the only native of our town to hold high positions in both the elementary and high school systems.

Before assuming the principalship of the grade school Mr. Austin was a member of the CMCHS faculty and was assistant principal.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Austin, was born and reared in Carrier Mills and is very much interested in the communities welfare, with special interest in the educational facilities.

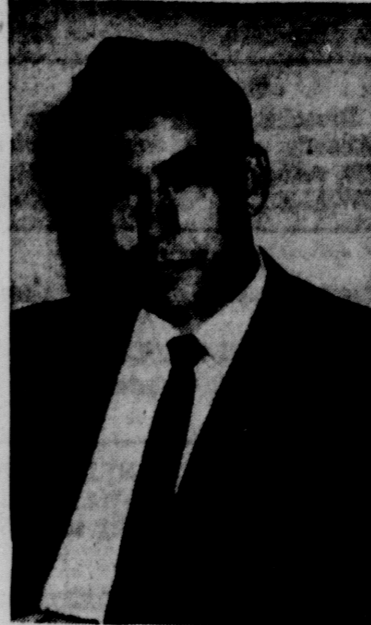

He graduated from the Carrier Mills grade school in 1934, was graduated from CMCHS with the class of 1938 and four years later was graduated from Southern Illinois University with a Bachelor of Education degree. He received his Master's degree in Education, Administration and Supervision from S.I.U. in 1949.

Shortly after graduation from S.I.U. in 1942 Mr. Austin entered military service, enlisting in the Army in September, 1942, and remained in service until Dec. 5, 1945.

During the almost 40 months of military duty, 29 months spent overseas in the Pacific theater of operations, Austin saw action in the New Guinea and Philippine campaigns. He received campaign stars for the two operations and also was awarded the Bronze Star for "duty beyond the call of duty."

He remained in the active Army Reserve following World War II and was recalled to extended active duty during the Korean action, serving 14 months with the reception center at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. During World War II he held the grade of sergeant and had been promoted to sergeant first class by the time he was discharged following the Korean campaign.

Mr. Austin began his teaching career at the Carrier Mills high school January, 1946, and continued until recalled to military duty. He returned to CMCHS following the Korean action in November, 1951, and remained a member of the faculty and assistant principal until he accepted the post of principal of the grade school, effective June 1, 1956.

John has a brother, Bob Austin, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Ammon, both of Carrier Mills.

He married the former Miss Leanna Harris and they are active in the Baptist church, he is a member of the Masonic lodge and Mrs. Austin is a member of the Carrier Mills chapter of Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. Austin also is a member of the American Legion, is a life member in the National Education Association, a member of the Illinois Association of School Administrators and other education organizations.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting.

Student Council Day Observed at CMCHS Monday

Monday was Student Council Day with members of the Student Council assuming practically full authority in the conducting of classes and school administration.

Taking over as head of the school for the day from Principal Carl Dillow was Miss Phoebe Holmes, president of the Student Council.

Duties assumed by other members of the group and the adult leader replaced:

Shirley Pyle, secretary for Mrs. Ailene Keel.

Richard Stewart, science, for Robert Aaron;

Larry Edwards, social studies, for Mrs. Jean Crowder;

Charles Rann, music, for Wayne

Minton;

Nina Davidson, commercial subjects, for Miss Mary Richardson;

Bob Mitchell, boys' physical education, for A. L. Willis;

Joan Dunn, home economics, for Mrs. Harold James;

Peggy Berns, English, girls' physical education, for Mrs. June Priest;

Lorna Dallas, English, for Mrs. Mabel Porter;

Lowell Keel, mathematics, for Athel Tanner;

Charlotte Davis, directed Student Council meeting and election of new members, for Athel Tanner.

This is the third annual Student Council Day at CMCHS and it has proved very successful. Although the principal and teachers are on duty and available if needed, the students are given authority to conduct their classes as they desire.

The assignments are made in sufficient time to give each student ample time to prepare for the day's duties and plan the work to be accomplished.

Carrier Mills High School Musicians Win Ratings at State Contest

Carrier Mills high school musicians won five first place awards, five seconds and two thirds in the state music contests held May 3-4 at Greenville.

First place winners: Charles Rann, vocal solo; Larry Edwards, piano solo; Larry Edwards, tenor saxophone solo; Shirley Pyle, clarinet solo; Jarrell Chaney, vocal solo;

Second place winners: Band; girls' chorus; Larry Edwards, vocal solo; Lorna Dallas, vocal solo; clarinet quartet—Shirley Pyle, Marilyn Lanton, Bruce Miller, Mary Pyle;

Third place winners: Boys' chorus, twirling duet—Betsy Ammon and Barbara Killman.

The entire CMCHS department was eligible for the state contest. Students participating in solo and ensemble contests, held Friday, went to Greenville Thursday afternoon in private automobiles.

The other 75 members of the music department left Friday afternoon in two chartered buses. Organization contests were held Saturday.

CMCHS boys stayed Friday night in the plush Uptown Motel and the girls had rooms at the Thomas hotel.

Everyone reports a wonderful time.

Carrier Mills Village Government Officials Organize

Tuesday evening, May 7, members of the Carrier Mills village government met at the city hall to organize and make plans for the coming months.

Following the oath of office to the members elected at the April 16 elections, Mayor Freeman O'Keefe announced the re-appointment of A. J. Henshaw as treasurer and the appointment was unanimously approved.

Department committee members were announced:

Street and Alley—Parish Miller, Hughie Gilchrist, Curtis Capel;

Purchasing—Miller, Gilchrist, Freeman Dale Pankey;

Ordinance—Capel, Chester Starkey, Leighman Walker;

Finance—Starkey, Pankey, Walker;

Fire—Pankey, Walker, Starkey;

Land and Buildings—Pankey, Walker, Starkey;

Police—Pankey, Walker, Starkey.

Swarm of Bees Causes Plenty Of Excitement

A swarm of bees caused lots of excitement in Carrier Mills recently.

At first there was great concern for a man's welfare. Then it all ended on a happy, laughing note. "The funniest thing I ever saw," is the way Harry Tanner describes the incident now.

Several days ago, about noon time, a loud, buzzing noise attracted the Harry Tanner family and investigation revealed that hundreds, maybe thousands, of honey bees had swarmed in a small apple tree between the Tanner and Clarence Osborn homes.

"Uncle John" Motsinger, 87-year-old bee man, was notified and he came with an empty hive to contain the bees.

Thinking the bees would fall from the tree and into the hive if the tree limb was given a shake, Uncle John banged the limb a hard blow with his hand.

Some of the bees went into the hive, but many didn't.

That's where the concern for his welfare came in.

It is said Mr. Motsinger was literally covered and that he kept bending lower and lower, his arms covering his face, and bees kept stinging. He was practically laying flat on the ground.

With everyone wondering what to do Dinah Lee Tanner decided action was necessary and in a hurry, so she connected the garden hose and turned the water on Uncle John and his bee tormentors. It worked. The bees were driven away and again swarmed in the apple tree.

Uncle John declared he was unhurt and not ill as a result of the stinging, however, he had bee stingers on his face, neck and arms which had to be pulled out.

Later he sawed off the limb of the apple tree and it fell in the hive. The bees decided it was home and stayed.

Yep, there was lots of excitement and concern for several minutes.

But now, looking back, Harry Tanner declares "It was the funniest thing I ever saw."

A person on a mountain one mile high can see 96 miles on a clear day.

Mayor Requests State Advice On Mosquitoes

For the third consecutive year the Carrier Mills-Stonefort area is suffering from mosquitoes in large numbers and unusual size and viciousness and the State Health Department has promised to send an engineer into the area to offer advice on how to combat the pests.

Earlier this month Carrier Mills Mayor Freeman O'Keefe wrote a letter to the State Health Department advising officials of the situation. Thursday afternoon he was notified an engineer was being assigned to look into the situation.

For the past two years the mosquitoes were said to be the result of drought conditions, but the big, hard-biting pests returned again this spring, definitely not a drought season.

The mosquitoes are so bad, O'Keefe said, that farmers have found it next to impossible to work in the fields and many are considering growing a heavy beard as protection.

Farm animals also are suffering from the mosquitoes, it is said.

The new Methodist church building was dedicated at 2 p. m. Sunday following the high Sunday school attendance. A good crowd was present.

The program was led by the Rev. Eugene Nolen, church pastor, and was as follows:

Opening song: "We're Marching to Zion," by congregation.

Prayer, Rev. T. J. Schafer of Valier, former pastor.

Duet, Mrs. Ruth Taylor and Mrs. Helen Cast, Creal Springs.

Solo, Mrs. Maurice Winn, Harrisburg.

Talks by Rev. Smith, Metropolis, Rev. Schafer, Valier, Rev. Shelby Felts, West Frankfort, and Rev. D. C. Morningstar, Creal Springs.

Everett Taylor, trustee of the Creal Springs Methodist church, read a short history of the institution which was launched in the old log Seaburg school in 1825, one mile south of Creal Springs.

The church was organized in 1825 with 22 charter members, which he gave.

The church school edifice of 1825 to 1846 was surrounded by a broad and expansive forest in all directions, and was called "Locust Grove."

For a period of 33 years the Seaburg house of learning was used as a place of worship separate from the dispensing of knowledge in the school curriculum.

In 1879 the M. E. affiliators moved into a new log house which had been erected near the old cemetery just inside of the present limits of Creal Springs, (south side). It was less than one-half mile distance from the old Seaburg site.

In 1883, the church moved into the third building, a frame structure in the southeast part of town. This building continued as the church home until 1898 when the members moved into their fourth and new building on Brown street, just south of Taylor and Heasley's stores on Blue avenue, main part of town. This church building burned January 13, 1954 and threatened the entire business block and surroundings, but good work of fire departments and snow on roofs were life savers.

Trustees, former pastors, present pastor and District Superintendent Maurice Winn, in a group burned the note following a fine message given by the Rev. Winn.

This is the fifth home of the church. It is one of the most beautiful sanctuaries both interior and exterior in southern Illinois. It is a great asset to Creal Springs. The church reached a membership of 149 in 1934. At present about 80 are on the register.

Some of the ministers or pastors at the church and their year or years when pastoring are:

Rev. A. H. Seay, 1846; Rev. Elijah Hood, 1856; Rev. Ritchey Oliver, 1858; Rev. Dave Williams, 1861; Rev. Bothnar, 1874; Rev. John H. Davis, 1908; Rev. W. J. Peterson, 1905; Rev. W. R. Hammons, 1911; Rev. Theodore Cates, 1894.

New Methodist Church Building Dedicated at Creal Springs

By H. L. Molsinger

The Creal Springs Methodist church can report a great day for Sunday, May 5.

The Sunday school attendance for April previously averaged 120, but Sunday, May 5, was the record breaker, which was perhaps the largest Sunday school attendance in the history of the 111 year old church. The record breaker for attendance, the all time high was 183.

The new Methodist church building was dedicated at 2 p. m. Sunday following the high Sunday school attendance. A good crowd was present.

Cancer Drive For Funds Lagging

The finance campaign for the American Cancer Society is lagging in Carrier Mills it was revealed today by Chairman Pete Pyle, who appealed to citizens to contribute as liberally as possible to the worthy cause.

Pyle stated Carrier Mills' quota was $500 and less than $100 had been raised to date.

This is the first year there has been a fund-raising drive for the Cancer society in Carrier Mills and many people are not familiar with the work accomplished by the society, Pyle said.

Pyle and a few volunteer workers have solicited the business houses and a few of the residential streets, but a large part of the homes have not been contacted.

Anyone wishing to make a donation, or willing to volunteer time as a worker, should see Mr. Pyle at Pyle's IGA Super Market, North Main street, Carrier Mills.

Junior-Senior Prom Tonight

The annual Junior-Senior Prom of the Carrier Mills Community high school will be held this evening, starting at 8 o'clock, in the gymnasium.

All this week a decorating committee, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Crowder, junior class sponsor, has been busy at work and "mum's the word" regarding the decorating theme.

Reports are the gym has been transformed into a thing of beauty and enchantment and within a few short hours the doors will be thrown open and the biggest social event on the CMCHS calendar will be underway.

Music for the prom will be furnished by Jack Gaal and his band from Carbondale.

Mother-Daughter Banquet at Stonefort

A mother-daughter banquet, consisting of the Dorcas and Debra classes of the Missionary Baptist church of Stonefort, was held Thursday, May 2, at 7 p. m.

Those attending were Martha Reynolds, Julia Roberts, Fenis Butler, Lessie Hodge, Laura Hancock, Roma Hill, Jean Chaney, Mary Gross, Evelyn Stricklin, Jane Smith, Fannie Mae Bennett, Marjorie Bainbridge, Mildred Lay and children, Grace Blackman, Addie Smith, Mana Evetts, Edith Parks, Zenobia Hooven and Mildred Cobb.

AD-MO-LAS

Free-Flowing Meal for Easy
Handling and Mixing
Easy to Use — Adds Appetite
Appeal to All Rations!

Each 50 pound bag of AD-MO-LAS contains 30 pounds of blackstrap molasses blended into a highly absorbent carrier so that it is easy to handle and mix with feeds. Even though all molasses feeds show a certain amount of compaction after shipping and stacking, AD-MO-LAS breaks up easily into a free flowing meal.

FOR DAIRY COWS, BEEF CATTLE, HOGS and SHEEP

DAIRY COWS

AD-MO-LAS greatly increases the palatability of dairy feeds causing greater feed consumption. It stimulates rumen activity and in addition, greatly increases water consumption.
The result is more milk.

BEEF CATTLE

Molasses-fed steers as a rule "grade out" higher than those receiving no molasses. AD-MO-LAS is noted for the "top finish" or "bloom" it produces. It is also a valuable feed adjunct that increases feed and water consumption so that more economical gains result.

HOGS

AD-MO-LAS is a source of minerals and vitamins vitally needed by hogs. In addition to its appetizing effect in swine rations it steps up feed and water intake and results in faster and more economical gains.

SHEEP

AD-MO-LAS is valuable to the market lamb producer as an appetizer to stimulate feed consumption which in turn increases the rate of gain. It is easy and economical to include in the ration and regular use will increase lamb profits.

STONEFORT SCHOOL NEWS

By Sherryl Bainbridge

Due to the illness of her father, Miss Casey is not with us this week. Mrs. Katherine Muck of near Vienna is substituting for her in the first and second grade room.

If you were outdoors last Friday and heard something like a hive of bees, it was only the little folks of the third and fourth grade, along with Miss Gurley, hiking off to the woods for a nice picnic lunch. Were they ever excited! It sort of makes the rest of us wish we weren't so "grown-up."

The seventh and eighth grades had their art lesson out on the school lawn this week. Mrs. Nutty had each pupil to sketch a house that could be seen from the school. The paintings turned out to be very nice and will be exhibited in the art festival this month.

Carol Bainbridge and Steven Lay visited in Evansville, Ind., Sunday.

Jamima Smith visited with Sherryl Bainbridge Sunday.

Renita Martin was absent from school this week.

The third and fourth grade students finished the giraffe they have been working on. It is made of papier mache'.

They all enjoyed a picnic at Cave-in-Rock Sunday.

Sunday, three nieces of Mrs. Lillie Harold's, Mrs. Dimple Mitchell of Morehouse, Mo., Mrs. Darla Michel of Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Dexter, Mo., called unexpectedly on her. Before returning to their homes, they visited Mrs. Julia Hendrix, an aunt of theirs, in Broughton.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fischer and grandchildren, Brenda McNew, Danny Brothers and Anita Brothers spent Sunday in Carterville, visiting Mrs. Fischer's father for his birthday.

Mrs. Ina Fife and her son, Mr. Harry L. Fife, attended the funeral of her uncle, Charlie Quick, who passed away Sunday, May 5, at the West Frankfort hospital. He formerly lived in Galatia.

WILLING WORKERS MEET

The Willing Workers class of the Indian Camp Sunday school met at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Annadean Bell, of Carrier Mills.

The program was in keeping of Mother's Day and the meeting opened with the singing of the hymn, "Are You Washed in the Blood." Prayer was offered by Pauline McSparin, and roll call was answered by famous Mothers of the Bible. The song, "The Haven of Rest," was sung by the class and the scripture reading was taken from Psalm 121 by Violet Jane Sims. A duet composed of Ruby McSparin and Edna Bailey, sang "If I Could Hear My Mother, Pray Again." A reading, "What the Bible Says About Mother," was given by Regenia Duke, and the song, "Faith of Our Mothers," was sung by the group. Prayer was given by Regenia Duke, and the song, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," was sung. A Bible quiz and games were led by Regenia Duke.

Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and Cokes were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bell, to Pauline McSparin, Wanda Nell Dunn, Edna Bailey, Wilma McSparin, Violet Jane Sims, Madge Richey, Opal Hill, Ruby McSparin, Regenia Duke, and the following visitors, Savannah Harris, Thelma Bailey, Agnes Hill, Beverly Richey, Shirley Bell, Betty June Sims, and Lola Rose Hill.

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS

A two weeks' revival is being held at the Missionary Baptist church of Stonefort, which started Monday, May 6.

The Rev. Lyman Allen of Henderson, Ky., is conducting the services. The Rev. George Smith is the pastor of this church.

Miss Lava Tate Award Winner at Lincoln State School; Gets National Recognition

Miss Lava Tate, daughter of Avery Tate of 806 North Main street, Harrisburg, was first place award winner among the Lincoln state school employees and has won national recognition in addition to having been named the outstanding psychiatric aide award winner at the Lincoln institution for the year 1956.

Miss Tate and other outstanding employees were honored during open house ceremonies April 28.

Miss Tate was also honored at the mental health luncheon held at the state armory in Springfield April 30. This was held in conjunction with National Mental Health week.

Dr. Joseph Albaum, superintendent at the Lincoln state school, received word that Miss Tate had also been chosen to receive the National Association for Mental Health's "Psychiatric Aide Achievement Award" for 1956.

She received a pin, certificate, and a cash award in recognition of this honor. Miss Tate is the first employee of Lincoln state school to be named for the national award.

In announcing Miss Tate as first-place winner at the Lincoln institution, the administration states: If one were to describe the qualities which serve to distinguish the "ideal" cottage parent from the "average" then a model could be found in Miss Tate. Perhaps no other work role is such a composite of seeming contradictions in modern day life. The "ideal" must be administrator-laborer, teacher-learner, friendly-firm, organizer-detail worker and finally and most difficult, the cottage parent must be a substitute mother to an enormous family. Indeed, if the formal work requirements alone were fulfilled, we should have an unusual person, but Miss Tate is, in addition, capable of transcending the specified duties and shows creative imagination in a role in which it is difficult to display.

Born April 14, 1909, in Hamilton county, Lava Tate's childhood was characterized by service. At a time of life when responsibility is ordinarily lacking, Miss Tate assumed a major share of the duty of attending an ailing mother. Thus, very early the rewards of helping others less fortunate, were instrumental in shaping her future career. In 1941, 16 years ago, Miss Tate was employed by the Lincoln state school. Since that time, the entire institution has profited immeasurably from this association. Nowhere in the institution is there a more loyal cooperative, patient or energetic employee.

Her co-workers have described her as a person who "goes out of her way to make life comfortable for the patients," and is always "patient and understanding of new employee's problems and helping to teach the novices." Miss Tate is neat appearing, quiet and unassuming. The virtue of this approach to her everyday duties ful-

Horace Mann P.T.A. Installs New Officers

At the May meeting of the Horace Mann P. T. A. the patrons enjoyed hearing the speaker, Richard Davenport, of the Harrisburg National bank, discuss money for children, allowances for tots and teens and how to control saving and spending, as the case might be.

Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, Director for District 30, who had just returned from the P. T. A. convention in Chicago, expressed her pleasure at the splendid showing Horace Mann P. T. A. unit had made at the convention. The Year Book was given "Excellent" rating, and the historical account of the year, compiled by Mrs. Edwin Thompson, received top honors. Only two such accounts were presented by District 30, the one from Horace Mann and one from the Lincoln school in Eldorado.

A new installation ritual was used for the first time in this area by Mrs. Bramlet in installing the new officers.

The stage of the auditorium held a table on which were placed a gold cross, the American flag, a home and a school. Beside each was a tall white taper. As the ritual was read, the president, Mrs. Robert Rushing, lighted the candles, linking God and our country with the home and the school—four essentials in the life of a child. The effect was most impressive.

The officers installed for the school year 1957-58 were:

Mrs. Morris Skaggs, president; Mrs. Bernard Feazel, vice-president; Mrs. Lester Willmore, secretary; Gene Kimberlin, treasurer; and Mrs. Eugene Morris, historian.

This meeting marked the closing of a very successful year.

Ex-Con Admits Killing Boy Scout Two Years Ago

MUSKEGON, Mich. AP—Herman Barmore, who served 21 years in New York prisons for armed robbery, Thursday night confessed the slaying of a 12-year-old Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout nearly two years ago.

Barmore, who was known in Muskegon as Charles Fisher and who was arrested under that name at Dateland, Ariz., admitted the killing after FBI agents confronted him with proof of his identity.

But the 44-year-old ex-convict denied he murdered the boy. He said the gun that killed Peter Gorham went off accidentally.

At Evanston, Frederick A. Gorham, father of the slain boy, said he was glad the mystery appeared to be solved at last.

The elder Gorham, when he learned of Barmore's confession from newsmen, remarked: "I'll probably be the last person to be told about it officially."

Peter's body was discovered five weeks after he disappeared from a Boy Scout camp at Duck Lake, about 17 miles north of Muskegon, on July 5, 1955.

Barmore, who denied any knowledge of the slaying since his return from Arizona on a morals charge, suddenly asked to see Sheriff Arthur W. Davis Thursday night.

"I did it," he told Davis, who quoted him as saying the gun went off by accident while the two were target shooting.

The mustached, black-haired Barmore was held under $7,500 bond on a charge of committing sodomy with a 15-year-old Muskegon boy.

Stratton Signs SIU Measure

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Gov. William G. Stratton has signed into law bills which would permit the trustees of Southern Illinois University to use income from tuition and student fees to supplement income from University housing to back up the University's good faith in payment of interest and retirement of housing revenue bonds.

The bills were introduced by Sens. R. G. Crisenberry, R., Murphysboro; Glen O. Jones, R., Harrisburg; Dwight Friedrich, R., Centralia; Paul W. Broyles, R., Mt. Vernon; and William Grindie, D., Herrin. Crisenberry said income from university housing projects are expected to be ample but that supplementing it with tuition and student fees will make the housing bonds more marketable.

Committee Slashes Farm Program Funds

would expect reductions on the conservation reserve.

Actually, department officials had indicated earlier that failure of farmers to sign up for the conservation reserve means the department would have an unspendable surplus of $186,000,000 if all the funds requested were approved.

The committee assailed the "acreage reserve" and recommended Congress attach a rider to the money bill to limit spending next year to 500 million dollars. Spending of 750 million dollars annually is now authorized.

The committee also cut $11,880,110, a 20 per cent reduction, from requests for research funds. It said it doesn't make sense for the department to pay farmers to cut plantings and then increase its payroll for scientists to figure out ways of increasing per-acre yields.

Whitten, in a report accompanying the bill, called for adoption of a new farm program with buyers of farm products shouldering costs which now are charged to the taxpayers.

Today's action brought to $1,413,732,609 total economy cuts claimed by the House or its Appropriations Committee. They represent about 7 per cent of requests totalling $18,933,989,020.

CIPS President Defends Power Rates

is approximately 165 per cent, compared to only 132 per cent for the United States as a whole. He pointed out that increases for southern Illinois and the State of Illinois were about the same—120 per cent.

Rates to Larger Consumers

Luthringer also said that electricity sales to large light and power customers alone have tripled in the past 10 years throughout the company's service area, and doubled in southern Illinois.

"I want to point out that for all communities served solely by our company, rates for large lighting and power service are the same with the exception of Quincy," he said. Quincy is the only community of more than 20,000 population served by CIPS.

He presented statistics developed from the 1947 Census of Manufacturers, Edison Electric Institute, to show that the cost of electricity is less than one per cent of the manufacturer's selling prices in the case of most industrial products. Luthringer also referred to a study made by the National Industrial Conference Board in regard to a site location survey made of nine cities by a plant which has annual sales of $250,000,000 and employs 25,000 people. In considering operating costs in each of the nine cities, the cost of electricity was a minor factor in the overall comparison with transportation and labor, the study showed.

"A few miles closer to raw materials, or to the market for the finished products or a cent or two an hour difference in wage rates will wipe out the entire cost of power," said Luthringer.

The CIPS president also said that the management of a large unnamed manufacturing plant in southern Illinois disclosed that the cost of power is only 1.63 per cent of the cost of labor.

"A five per cent wage increase amounts to three times the entire annual power cost of this manufacturer," he said.

Evidence from a Federal Power Commission report on residential electric rates of cities of 2500 population and more was presented by Luthringer to dispel a previously publicized statement of a critic that CIPS customers "pay the highest rates in the United States."

He exhibited a list of 28 states that have higher costs for 250 kilowatt hours per month since the CIPS rate reduction last September. The list showed 16 states with higher rates before the rate reductions. The list included such heavily industrialized states as Michigan and Connecticut and some of the largest utilities in the country. He also presented a similar list on 500-kilowatt hour usage per month.

Serves 515 Communities
Other points brought out in Luthringer's statement to the committee:
CIPS serves 515 communities in an area approximately 35 per cent of the total area of the state, yet serves only 7 1/2 per cent of the total electric customers. Ninety-two percent of the communities served by CIPS have a population of less than 2,500; 63 per cent have less than 500 residents.

CIPS has spent about $131,000,000 for new electric facilities the past 10 years, with $45,000,000 of it in southern Illinois. CIPS will spend about $9,500,000 in southern Illinois alone in 1957. These expenditures have meant hundreds of jobs for local people over the years—and more are evident for the future.

Seventy-five new industrial customers, employing 14,850 people, have been connected to CIPS lines since 1945. Of these, 34 in southern Illinois and employ some 5,950. Thirty-four other industries, five in southern Illinois, have noticeably expanded their operations since 1945. These do not include 19 new coal mines and more than a hundred new oil and gas pipeline and oil production customers.

The abandonment of coal mines in southern Illinois during the period of 1947-1956, had a depressing effect on the area. In the CIPS area alone, 35 of these mines closed and left 7,500 men unemployed. Several factors were involved in these abandonments and subsequent unemployment—but neither a shortage nor the cost of electric power was one of them.

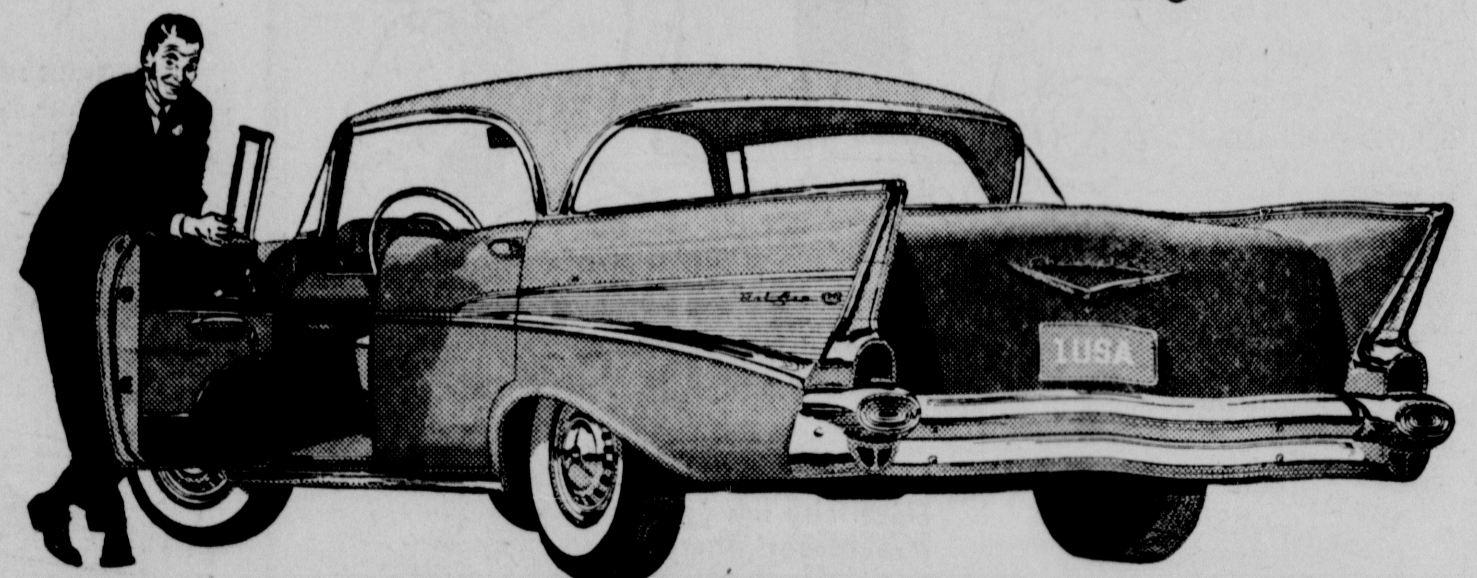

CIPS purchased more than 1,000,000 tons of coal in 1956, with about 643,000 tons of it coming from mines in southern Illinois. A new 100,000-kilowatt generating unit scheduled to go into operation at Grand Tower in December will consume an additional 225,000 tons of southern Illinois coal a year.

The decision of Olin-Mathieson to locate an aluminum plant in the Ohio River Valley rather than in southern Illinois was not caused by any shortage of power or by the level of electric rates in that area. The plant will be served by a new power station to be built across the river from the plant where the necessary supply of coal may be mined and delivered to the station without incurring the usual transportation charges. Delivered fuel cost at power stations in southern Illinois runs some 20% to 40% higher than it does in the upper Ohio Valley where adequate supplies of good coal are located immediately adjacent to adequate water.

An aluminum plant requires an extremely large volume of power which is not ordinarily immediately available in any area. Power facilities must be constructed specifically for meeting the power demands of such a plant. At the time Olin-Mathieson was considering possible sites for its aluminum plant, power companies of southern Illinois had advised the firm that they were ready to negotiate for the construction or operation, or both, of power facilities; for the making of adequate provision for reserve or backup power, and for the rates that might be charged for the services rendered.

PRE-ENGINEERING STUDENTS at Southern Illinois University go to the blackboard to express their views on the Senate education committee's reluctance to advance a bill removing restrictions on a four-year engineering program at Southern. Deadlocked by an 8-to-8 vote last week, a proposal to get the measure on the Senate floor will be considered by the committee again in Springfield. If the bill is not passed, more than 300 would-be engineers at SIU must change their majors or transfer to other colleges where degrees are offered. At present, the University of Illinois is the only tax-supported institution in the state with a four-year engineering program. (SIU Photo Service)

Probers Report Beck Profited On Mortgages Sold to Widow

WASHINGTON AP—Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and an associate made $11,585 profit from selling their own mortgages to the widow of Beck's best friend, the Senate Labor Rackets Committee said today.

Beck was trustee of the widow's fund to which he sold the mortgages, the committee said.

Don Hedlund, Seattle mortgage banker who shared the profit with Beck, said under questioning that the deal went like this:

Beck as trustee of Teamsters Union funds put up money for Beck and Hedlund as individuals to buy some 30 home mortgages with a face value of $71,607 on May 29, 1956. They bought the mortgage as a discount, however. The home owners made payments on the mortgages so they were worth only $67,137 by last December, the committee said.

Full Face Value
But Beck was also trustee of the Raymond Leheny Memorial Fund of about $80,000, which the union had raised for the widow of Beck's best friend. In that capacity, he sold to the memorial fund the mortgages which he and Hedlund held.

Hedlund had testified earlier that Beck invested millions of dollars of union funds and profited from brokerage fees which were "kicked back" to him.

Hedlund said the sale to the memorial fund—in other words, to Mrs. Leheny—was paid at the full face value of the mortgages, yielding him and Beck a profit of $11,585.04.

Then Beck as union president was told that the mortgages had been disposed of, and gave himself a check for $61,137.

Fred P. Loomis of Seattle testified Thursday that for several years he was investment counselor to both Beck and the union but quit in February, 1955, when he became convinced Beck was using his union power to enrich himself and his family.

Loomis said his "blow-up" with Beck came because he treated the union president "like an ordinary mortal."

"He might have been a big wheel but to me he was just a hub cap," said the small, precise investment counselor. Other documents during the day referred to the portly Teamster boss as "His majesty, the wheel."

Voice Broadcasts Report

U. S. Hints Partial 'Open Skies' Plan Acceptable for Europe, Alaska, Siberia

WASHINGTON AP—The United States is hinting it will accept a partial "open skies" aerial inspection plan limited to Europe, Alaska and the eastern reaches of Siberia, a study of Voice of America broadcasts showed today.

One broadcast said such a plan would be "an effective first step" in preventing surprise knockout attacks in the nuclear age. It said this kind of test area could be expanded to more important areas later.

The Europe - Alaska - Siberia compromise could be the American answer to a recent Soviet proposal for getting President Eisenhower's open skies inspection plan into operation.

The President proposed at the 1955 Big Four Summit meeting at Geneva that Russia and the United States agree to let each other make photo reconnaissance flights over each other's territory to make sure neither was massing for a surprise nuclear attack.

The Soviet Union at first belittled the idea. But Russia came forward at current London disarmament negotiations with the suggestion that Russian sky inspectors be allowed to fly over Alaska and the entire western United States, with American inspectors permitted to fly over Siberia, a small section of western Russia and much of Europe.

The United States said this represented a significant advance over previous Russian positions but a detailed reply would have to await lengthy study.

However "Voice" now has given some detailed reaction. One broadcast contained the hint of a Europe - Alaska - Siberia compromise. It put it this way:

"It is felt that the first aerial inspection might take place in those areas where the American and Soviet forces are in closest juxtaposition to each other—in Europe and in the Bering Straits which separate Alaska and Siberia. This would be an effective first step in preventing large-scale surprise attack."

VA Hospital at Marion to Hold Open House Sunday

Dr. Chalmer Davee, manager of the Veterans Administration hospital, Marion, announced today that Hospital Day will be observed at that hospital on Sunday, May 12.

May 12, the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, has been officially designated as National Hospital Day. Hospitals throughout the country, veterans, military, and civilian, celebrate Hospital Day by inviting people from the community to see just how a hospital works and what it does for the welfare of the ill and disabled.

Dr. Davee wishes to extend to all people of this area an invitation to attend the VA Hospital's "Open House" on Hospital Day, and to observe some of the workings of a VA hospital.

"Open House will be from 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. Conducted tours will originate from the hospital entrance commencing at 1:30 p. m.

Senators Defeat Tigers, 8-5, to End 10-game Losing Streak; White Sox Win, 2-0

By United Press
The lowly Washington Senators can't claim many distinctions but they've got the closest thing to a "one-man offense" in slugger Roy Sievers.

A rugged native of St. Louis, Mo., the 30-year-old outfielder is belting away at a .330-clip and leads the American League with 24 runs batted in. He blasted his sixth home run of the season Thursday and knocked in three runs as the Senators beat the Detroit Tigers, 8-5, and presented Cookie Lavagetto with his first victory as a major league manager.

The Senators, ending a 10-game losing streak that began under former manager Charley Dressen April 28, also had a pitcher go nine innings and win for the first time this year. Camilo Pascual was the "man of distinction," despite the fact he yielded 11 hits and walked two batters.

"Retread" Fans Nine
Jim Wilson, 35-year-old "retread" from the National League, struck out nine and hurled a five-hitter to give the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the only other big league game Thursday. The win snapped the White Sox' five-game losing streak and put them back into a tie for the AL lead with the New York Yankees.

Sievers, who has knocked in more than 25 per cent of the 89 runs the Senators have scored in 23 games this year, hammered a three-run homer off Frank Lary in the third inning to give the Nats a 3-1 lead and led off a two-run ninth inning rally with a double. Jim Lemon followed with a 425-foot triple and scored moments later on Lew Berberet's single.

Lary Suffers Third Loss
Lary, the league's leading winner with 21 victories last season, suffered his third defeat compared with two victories. Lary, 3-1 against Washington last year, yielded nine hits and five earned runs in six innings.

Wilson, always a fine spring pitcher, snapped the White Sox' losing streak with a flourish as he prevented red-hot Ted Williams from getting the ball out of the infield in four tries. Williams, who went into the game hitting .474 and who had hit three home runs in Wednesday's 4-1 victory over Chicago, popped up, grounded out twice and struck out.

Dean Stone, acquired by the Red Sox from the Senators in a recent trade, suffered his second straight loss for the Sox. The game was halted three times for a total of one hour and 23 minutes by rain.

High School Dist. Track Meet at Carbondale Today

The state high school district track and field meet is being held at the S. I. U. stadium, Carbondale, today, with University High school the host.

Preliminaries in most track events and the finals in both the shot and discus were to be completed this afternoon, with championships in other events scheduled for this evening.

A meeting of coaches of all participating schools was held Wednesday evening at Carbondale. At that time each coach filed the list of entries and individual times and distances in various events were discussed and heats arranged.

Coach Lawrence Calufetti has a large group from HTHS at the meet and Eldorado Coach Al Adams took nine boys to participate in the district.

Herrin is defending champion, having taken the 1956 title. Others in the first five were Murphysboro, Eldorado, Harrisburg and Mt. Vernon, with 23 schools participating.

Fullmer to Meet

Tiger Jones June 7
CHICAGO — Former world middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, who lost his title on a knock-out to Ray Robinson last week, has signed to meet veteran Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., in a nationally telecast and broadcast 10-round bout at the Chicago Stadium, June 7.

Buenos Aires is the largest city in Argentina.

OUT OUR WAY

Bull Dogs Lose to Metropolis, 4-3

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs outthrew Metropolis, 9 to 4, but lost to the Trojans, 4 to 3, in a high school baseball contest under the lights Thursday night on the Massac county diamond.

Zan Hefner hurled all the way for Harrisburg and although he was stingy with his hits, walked nine. Stewart, Metropolis hurler, allowed one base on balls. Both hurlers fanned five.

Harrisburg made its three runs in the first inning on a hit, three walks, hit batsman and a wild throw on a pickoff play.

Jim Cummins led the Harrisburg attack with three doubles and a single in three times at bat. Ron Maynard, Ron Vick, Don Pickford and Bob Shewmake also got hits.

Nine major league scouts were on hand to see Roger "Hawk" Taylor, Metropolis star who is attracting lots of attention.

Bottomley and Cummins Eligible For State Tennis Meet

Bill Bottomley and Charles Cummins, representing the HTHS in the district tennis meet held Saturday at Murphysboro, won second in doubles competition and are eligible to participate in the state meet Friday and Saturday, May 17-18, at the University of Illinois.

Bottomley and Cummins drew a bye through the first round, then defeated Carbondale 6-0, 6-8, 6-2 in the second round of play.

In the semifinals the Harrisburg duo met and won from an Olney combination 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 and then met Olney's first doubles team in the finals. This match went to Olney 16, 2-6.

Olney won the district title, with six teams competing—Olney, Harrisburg, Carbondale, Murphysboro, Flora and Centralia.

Norris City Wins District Grade School Track, Field Championship

Ridgway is Second, Harrisburg Third, Carrier Mills Fourth

Norris City, with 69 points, captured the district grade school track and field championship at Taylor Field Thursday afternoon.

Ridgway was second with 50 points, Harrisburg third with 42, Carrier Mills fourth with 15½ and Raleigh fifth with 3½.

The meet was marred when George Jenkins, Harrisburg Junior high school athlete, tripped while running the hurdles and broke his left leg in the fall. Faculty members said x-rays showed the big bone in his leg, between the ankle and knee, was fractured.

All winners of first and second places and all who placed on the championship Norris City squad will be eligible to participate in the state meet, to be held at Taylor Field in Harrisburg next Wednesday.

Thursday's summaries:
Pole vault: Sutton NC, tie for second between Hesterly NC and Cox R, tie for fourth between Potter H and Owens H. 7-6.

100-yard dash: Utter H, Dillard

Logart-Ortega Bout Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y. —Contenders Isaac Logart of Cuba and Gaspar Ortega of Mexico engage in a 12-round "rubber match" tonight for a probable shot at the welterweight crown.

Although each won a previous meeting, Logart is favored at 11-5 to beat lanky Ortega, a long-range sharpshooter, this time at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium.

Their significant bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC.

The winner will be in a position to challenge champion Carmen Basilio of nearby Chittanooga, N. Y., for the 147-pound crown. Or he will be geared to fight top-ranked ex-champion Tony De Marco for the vacant crown in case Basilio wins the middleweight championship, from Sugar Ray Robinson in September. Basilio could not hold two titles.

In the rankings De Marco is No. 1, Ortega No. 2 and Logart No. 3; but it's unlikely De Marco could get another shot at Basilio, who already knocked him out twice in title bouts.

In their two previous encounters, Logart, 24, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Ortega, 21, at Madison Square Garden, March 16, 1956; but Ortega turned the tables with a split 10-round verdict at Boston, Oct. 17.
